Utah and Its Sham

We begin to fear that nothing practical will be done, during the protect consion of Congress, to blot, out the great, national iniquity which is new tolerated in Utah. In the entry part of the besion several propositions were introduced relative to the suppression of solygers amy, and there was reason to believe that something tangible would be accomplished; but the subject discussion of from signature that something tangible would be accomplished; but the subject discussion of troops again the second suppression of the subject discussion. sure, and there is reason to appr that it will not reappear before the adjournment. This inaction in respect to the great moral evil that has taken root It is not only a disgrace to the nation to tolerate such a social enormity, but it tends to strengthen and foster the wrong by the tacit countenance which non-action extends to it. This last feature is one of the chief arguments which the Mormons now adduce as a reason why they should be "let alone." The Deseret News, an ably edited organ of the Mormon Church, is now publishing a series of articles affirming the legality of polygamy, and the inability of Con-gress to destroy it without an infraction of the Constitution. It argues that the Government has practically recog-nized polygamy as a legitimate institu-tion for a quarter of a century, by tolerating and permitting its existence within the United States. It pertinently asks, why, if the Mormons are doing wrong, they have not been interfered with? There is no question that this gigantic evil is every year becoming more-formidable, and that its suppression is consequently becoming more and more

OUR MINING INTERESTS.

It is asserted by the polyramists, through their daily organ of the city, that the men engaged in aveloping the silver ledges of Utah import specimens of silver ore from alread, and pale them off as bone fide speciment of the Rush Valley and Pahranagat ledges. The assertion is as maliciously false as it is utterly contemptible, and only serves to show to what desperate measures they are driven, to prevent, if possible, any further development of our mineral wealth.

It is well understood here and abroad that the polygamists are bitterly opposed to a development of our mines, knowing, as they do, full well what the result will be to them; and, for this reason. felsehoods, like the one above mentioned, will have no effect further than to prove we are driving them to the wall.

Probably not less than one hundred thoused dollars' worth of machinery will be in Rush Valley this season, and an equal if not larger amount in Pahranagat -brough to fully test and prove the valbe of these mines.

The ledges in Rush Valley, Pahranagat and other mining districts in the Territory will be fully tested. The men owning them will erect smelting works and prove whether there is silver enough in them to pay for working at present rates of labor and transportation. The Argenta Company, over whose suspension the polygamists rejoice greatly, has never to our knowledge smelted one pound of ore.

If after thorough trial, it is found our silver ledges will not pay for working until labor and communication are cheaper, this journal will proclaim the fact freely and as promptly as any other journal in Utah. In the meantime, mining property will not be purch sed any cheaper by reason of the Argenta suspension

We well know that silver are abounds in this territory. It only remains to be proved whether the ledges can be profitably worked now.

Within the present year we hope to have this fact clearly established-yen or nay. We say to our friends give no heed to the statements made in the inter. ests of polygamy. That interest will never make an effort to prove either the value or worthlessness of our silver ledges-the loyal men of Utah will, and this journal will not deceive any man in, or out of, this territory by falsely and he has the whole mineral country, stating the result.

It is three quartz mills are now on their way alleged that the most corrupt collusion to this country, and I venture to say has existed between officers and contractors .- r. F. Builelin.

Some time since we heard of the affair to which the above item undoubtedly has refference, and from a reliable source we learn the following facts in the case: It appears that about last Christmas the Commissary warehouse and its contents, at Camp Douglas, was burned; a few days after a certain staff officer received orders to turn over his stores and accounts to another officer, and in doing so he took a solemn outh that he owed a very prominent Mormon Church official a sum not exceeding $4,000. A short time after this "church official" presenthave commenced work. They have about one ton of very rich ore to the surface. I may add that this Company ed to the officer who, had taken charge of affairs, a bill for upward of $10,000. The military authorities thinking there was a screw loose somewhere disallowed the bill, and referred the whole matter to Washington, where our late "staff officer" has now gone to "square his accounts."

We will also add for the information of our readers, that the said 'staff officer" is with one exception the only gentleman, holding a U. S. office in this Territory, whose name appears on the late telegram sent to Gen. Sherman by Brigham Young. Col. Smith having ordered his off by telegraph the next day after it was sent, when he found out the true facts of the case.

Editor Vedette: Sir,-During the last ew days I have been examining the mineral wealth of the celebrated Pabranegat Mining District, in company with the Governor of Nevada and Prof. Whiter Superintendent of Public Instruction of the same State, who have been out on the desert sountry between this place, and Virginia city, Nev., for about fiftyfive days, and I think they had the bard est time that any set of men ever had. They lost one of their number on the desert, and to-day Mr. White preached his funeral sermon, being the first divine services that this great mining country has ever enjoyed. THE BLOODY COST .- Few of our readers are aware of the number of terrible battles which were fought in Mexico during the first seven months after the advent of the Emperor Maximilian. From June to December, 1864, the Lib eral and Imperial forces tought one hundred and twenty-two battles, with an aggregate of killed, 3,227; wounded 1.300. During 1865, there were three 1.300. During 1865, there were three hundred and twenty-two engagements. in which 5.674 were killed, and 1,279 were wounded. The tremendous warriors fought almost a battle a day, and history does not record a larger number of "striumages," in the same length of time. The wenneed must have been very generally put to death for unless this humane rite was regulatly performed, how could there have been 8.951 took killed in ningtoen months, and only 3,600 reported as wounded.— Exchange.
